PART 2: COLD CALLING SCRIPT

For new callers. Read this word-for-word until it feels natural.

THE OPENING (15 seconds)

"Hi [name], this is Trisha with Instaweb Agency. I know you're busy — I'll be quick.

I was looking at your website and I've got a specific idea that could bring you more customers. Do you have 60 seconds for me to show you?"

[LET THEM RESPOND]

If they say "sure" or "go ahead" → Skip to The Pitch If they say "I'm busy" → "No problem — when's a better time? I'll call you back in 5 minutes." If they hang up → Move to the next call. No sweat.

THE PITCH (30 seconds)

"Here's the deal. I've already built a high-converting website layout specifically for [industry] companies in [city]. It's modern, looks great on phones, and it's designed to turn visitors into paying customers.

Normally this costs $2,500 to build custom, but we're expanding in the Houston market right now, so your activation fee is just $399 — and that includes hosting and maintenance at $99 a month.

I've already plugged your business info into a live demo. Can I send you a link to look at? It takes 30 seconds to see."

HANDLING OBJECTIONS

"I already have a website"

"I'm sure you do. Most of our clients had one too — but it wasn't pulling in leads. Our sites are built specifically to convert. I can show you yours side-by-side with what you have now. No pressure."

"That's too expensive / $399?"

"I get it. But think about it — a custom website normally runs $2,500-$5,000. We're charging $399 because we're expanding in Houston and we use templates so we don't have to build from scratch. Same quality, fraction of the price. And it pays for itself with one job."

"Send me something"

"Absolutely. I'll send you a live link right now. What's the best email for you? I'll text you too so you don't miss it."

(Then close with:) "I'll send it over. If you like what you see, I have a slot open Thursday to flip the switch and go live. Does 10 AM work?"

"Let me talk to my partner"

"Totally fair. What questions do you think they'll have? I can put those answers in the email I send so you're ready. And if they want to hop on a 3-minute call with me, I'm happy to talk to them too."

"I'm too busy"

"I hear you. That's actually why our clients like us — we handle everything. You don't have to do anything. I build it, I host it, I send you leads. You just keep running your business. Can I send you a 60-second video walkthrough? No commitment."

"My nephew / cousin / friend does websites"

"Awesome, that's convenient. Most of the time though, they're busy and the site never gets finished — or it's not built to bring in leads. Our sites are conversion-optimized and we handle all the updates. If your nephew can beat $399 and a site that's ready to go live this week, go with him. If not, let me send you the demo."

THE CLOSE (every call ends here)

"Great. I'm going to send you a live link to your demo site plus a 60-second video walkthrough. Check your email in the next minute."

I have a slot open on Thursday to flip the switch and go live. Does 10 AM work for you?"

IF THEY SAY YES: "Perfect. I'll put you down for Thursday at 10. You'll get the email in a second. Talk soon!"

IF THEY SAY NOT SURE: "No problem. Look at the demo and let me know what you think. I'll follow up with you tomorrow. What's better — morning or afternoon?"

REMEMBER

- You're helping them, not selling them. They have a bad website and they're losing money. You're showing them a fix.
 - Keep it fast. 60 seconds max. If they're interested, they'll let you know.
 - Don't over-explain. Just get them to look at the demo.
 - Log every call. Open the app, tap the lead, pick a status, add notes, save.
 - Every "no" is closer to a "yes." This is a numbers game. Call 30 leads, set 3 appointments, close 1.
